

CASE USED IN SLIDE SEMINAR:

Echinococcus granulosus infection of the liver, with scolices within the portal veins, causing local necrosis. The differential diagnosis of hydatid cyst with other worm infections of the liver will be discussed (cestodes, nematodes and trematodes).